

The NJ law has been a God-send to me.....as a retired 78 year old I am no longer jumping up to answer the phone with an "unavailable" number and the caller's speed dialer has already gone on to next person's number.....If you fight the NJ law, why don't you enforce the non-use of speed dialers.....every damn marketer uses them